PHILADELPHIA BURGER BRAWL, A FOOD BENEFIT FOR PHILADELPHIA'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS, COMES BACK FOR A FOURTH ROUND, IN A BIGGER LOCATION

Philadelphia Burger Brawl, the burger-making competition that brings the Philadelphia restaurant community together to help Philadelphia public schools, is coming back for more. And it will be even bigger.

Round 4 will take place Sunday, June 8, 2014, from 3pm-6pm, at a great, new location, XFINITY LIVE!, the entertainment complex at 1100 Pattison Ave., Philadelphia, PA 19148.

Last year's Philadelphia Burger Brawl competition, held at Fleisher Art Memorial, drew 1,000 people who sampled and voted on burgers from 25 establishments. This year's Philadelphia Burger Brawl, at XFINITY LIVE!, is expected to attract 50 restaurants and 3,000 people. The goal of this year's competition is to raise $140,000 for the School District of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Burger Brawl was launched in 2011 by restaurateurs Rob and Maggie Wasserman, who saw that their sons' school, the William M. Meredith Public Elementary, was in need of a new computer lab. Proceeds from the first Philadelphia Burger Brawl cinched a new lab for the South Philadelphia elementary school. Now, Philadelphia Burger Brawl is raising funds to bring new technologies for deserving schools throughout the School District of Philadelphia. In 2013, two schools, Delaplaine McDaniel and Albert M. Greenfield Elementary, both received $20,000 for the advancement of technologies in their schools.

Past Winners: Past winners of the Judges' and People's Choice awards include: Celebrity Choice Winner Jennifer Carroll 2011, The Capital Grille 2012, and Fat Jack's BBQ 2013 and People's Choice Winners Michael McNally of London Grill 2011, Bobby's Burger Palace 2012, and Lucky's Last Chance 2013

Among the 2014 participants are Barbuzzo, London Grill, Good Stuff Eatery, Parc, Butcher & Singer, Lucky's Last Chance, Shake Shack, Iron Hill Brewery, Aldine, Border Spring, The Gas Light, Fat Jack's BBQ, Alla Spina, PYT, BurgerFi, Silk City, Misconduct Tavern, City Tap House, Rex 1516, Davio's, Bistrot La Minette, Spencer Eta Burger, Rouge, 500 Degrees, and The Saint James.
